Negotiations Secret In Face Of Struggle

LONDON, March 11—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today announced the dispatch of Sir Stafford Cripps to New Delhi with a secret plan for eventual Dominion status for India designed to win the full approval of all political factions and religious creeds.

Pleading for unity of the Indian people in the war effort and warning that forces of "tyranny and aggression" are at their gates, Churchill told the House of Commons the plan must be shielded in secrecy until Cripps consults the leaders of all classes in India.

He reiterated the war cabinet's united determination to give India equality and self-government when a means of operation is worked out by agreement among the Indians themselves "and acceptable to the main elements of Indian national life."

Sir Stafford, lord privy seal and leader of the House of Commons, was detached from the war cabinet for his delicate mission. He will present the proposal to all political and factional leaders.

Details Secret

Churchill expressed the hope that all would accept it. Details of the scheme were kept secret for the time being.

Stressing Britain's desire to obtain 100 percent cooperation of the Indian people in beating back the invader now at their gates, Churchill told the House of Commons:

"In August of 1940, a full statement was made about the aims and policy we were pursuing in India.

"This amounted to a promise that as soon as possible after the war India would attain Dominion status and full freedom and equality with this country and other dominions under a constitution to be framed by the Indians amongst themselves and acceptable to the main elements of Indian national life.

"This was the subject of fulfillment of our obligations for protection of minorities and all our treaty obligations with the Indian states and settlement of certain matters arising from our long association.

When Red Army Began Offensive

It has taken a long time for this historic picture to reach the United States, via Moscow and London. It shows infantrymen of the Soviet Army making their first attack in the counter offensive that has smashed the legend of Nazi invincibility. These men recaptured Rostov-on-Don, key city to the Caucasus oil fields.

EIGHT APPEALS MADE AGAINST DRAFT RATINGS

Pickaway county's draft board has received eight appeals in classification within the last month.

Five of the appeals were made by farmers seeking occupational deferment. Of the five appeals, three decisions of the local board to place the men in class 1-A were upheld by the appeals board. The other two cases are still pending.

Three other cases concerned registrants who claimed 3-A classifications because of dependency. In all three cases the decision of the local board to place the men in 1-A was upheld by the appeals board.

Ninety-two lives were feared lost on the new deprivations by enemy u-boats.

Report of the enemy submarine destroyed reached Havana, Cuba and while it was not confirmed by the Navy, it came from well informed sources. The report said that American destroyers sank one of three enemy subs that had attacked five tankers off the eastern tip of the island.

Greatest loss of life was feared in the sinking of the 5,152 ton Brazilian passenger liner Cayru Sunday evening, the third naval district in New York announced 26 survivors from the Cayru had been landed in New York but that 59 others were missing.

Another sinking reported by the Navy in the New York area was that of the American tanker Gulftrade, a 6,776 ton vessel. She was ripped in two by a torpedo only three and half miles off Barnegat Light, N. J. Sixteen survivors were lands but 18 others were missing.

The 7,090 ton tanker Hanset of Panama registry was the third ship reported sunk. She was one of the vessels attacked off Cuba.

NEW YORK—Port Moresby, New Guinea, was raided again today for the third day in succession, the Australian radio reported, according to CBS. No damage or casualties were reported.

LONDON—New British defense regulations—the first of many anticipated moves to develop a total war effort—imposing heavy penalties for "black market" offenses were announced officially today. The new regulations empower magistrates to impose one year of imprisonment and judges 14 years of penal servitude on persons guilty of such offenses.

NEW YORK—Eire is reorganizing its local defense force, according to a British radio broadcast recorded by CBS today. The new scheme applies to Dublin, Cork, Waterford, Limerick and Galway.

STIMSON VISITS CANAL

BALBOA, C. Z., March 11—United States Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson was in Panama today for a several days' inspection of the Caribbean defense command and the Panama canal, particularly the project for a third set of locks.

OMAHA, Neb., March 11—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Pigg displayed a letter today written at Corregidor by their son serving with Gen. MacArthur in the Philippines, but how the U. S. Army—or the Navy—got the letter out of the besieged island they were at loss to know.

It contained a plea for "the tools, the weapons and the planes we need."

The son, Ronald O. Pigg, a captain in the Army engineers corps, wrote the letter January 30. The envelope was stamped "via air mail" and bore a censor's mark dated March 3. The letter read:

"Dear folk: Long time no mail either way. I don't know how I ever will get this off, but will be optimistic while I have a chance.

"I know you have been pretty worried about all this mess out here, but I am as fine as can be..."

"Tell everyone hello for me, and see to it that we get the tools, weapons, and planes we need. There is a war on here. I know—first hand."

Capt. Pigg, 31, is a graduate of Iowa State college. His wife, the former Ruth Stivers, of Des Moines, now is living in California.

His letter was the first known instance here of mail coming out of Corregidor since the siege.

ARGUMENT OVER LABOR QUESTION HITS CONGRESS

Many Solons Get Appeals To Halt Strikes, High Dues On Projects

EXTRA PAY IS DEBATED

Senator Guffey Defending Role Played By Workmen In War Effort

WASHINGTON, March 11—Predictions that Congress will be forced to act on anti-strike legislation today brought a counter assertion that an organized anti-labor movement is under way in the nation.

Sen. O'Daniel (D) Tex., declared that congressional mail bags are filled with fresh demands from voters that alleged labor abuses be corrected by legislation.

Sen. Guffey (D) Pa., countered with the charge that "an organized anti-labor movement is being promoted based on false information."

"I believe that Congress will be forced to take some action, although I don't know how strong the legislation may be," said O'Daniel.

"I am afraid Congress is sticking to its neck, and if it doesn't act pretty soon it will get it in the neck as it did on the question of congressional pensions. They'll make us look ridiculous."

HENDERSON PUTS CEILING PRICES ON USED TIRES

WASHINGTON, March 11—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today came to the rescue of the ordinary citizen, who can't buy new tires or tubes for the family automobile, by establishing ceiling prices on used varieties of these articles.

Henderson's order, effective March 16, is aimed at profiteers who have taken advantage of the critical wartime rubber shortage to sell used casings at prices considerably above the maximum levels established for new tires.

The OPA used the prices existing between October 1-15 as a guide in establishing maximum levels on used tires and tubes, both for passenger cars and for commercial vehicles.

As an additional safeguard, the order requires the seller to furnish (Continued on Page Two)

RAF RAPS RUHR VALLEY DURING NIGHT ATTACK

LONDON, March 11—In continuation of its heavy offensive against Germany's war machine, the RAF again raided the Ruhr valley last night, it was announced today.

Visibility was not good, a communiqué said, but a "considerable weight" of bombs was dropped in industrial areas.

Four British planes failed to return.

Last night German long-range guns on the French coast fired a series of salvos across the Straits of Dover. The shelling lasted for half an hour, adding to the din caused by constant explosions on the French side of the channel during the British day-bombing raids.

To Avoid Dangers

"In order to clothe these general declarations with precision and to convince all classes, races and creeds of India of our sincere resolve, the war cabinet has agreed unanimously on a conclusion for present and future action which is accepted by India as a whole would avoid the alternative dangers either that the existence of a powerful minority might impose an indefinite veto on the wishes of the majority, or that a majority decision might be taken which would be resisted to a point of destruction of harmony and fatal to establishment of the new conditions.

"We had thought of setting forth immediately the terms of this attempt by constructive contribution to aid India in realization of full self-government.

"We, however, are apprehensive to make a public announcement at such a moment as it might do more harm than good.

"We must first assure ourselves that our scheme will win a reasonable and practical measure of acceptance, and thus promote concentration of all Indian thought and energies on defense of their native soil.

"It would ill serve the common need if we made a declaration of which could be rejected by essential elements of the Indian world or provoke fierce constitutional and communal disputes at a moment when the enemy is at the gates of India.

Must Help China

"We must remember that India has a great part to play in the world struggle for freedom, and her helping hand must be extended to China.

"We must remember that India is one of the bases from which the strongest counter-blows must be struck at the advance of tyranny and aggression."

NELSON ORDERS REPORTS ABOUT FACTORY OUTPUT

WASHINGTON, March 11—Orders were enroute to American manufacturers today requiring them to file monthly reports with the WPB on conversion to war work, after WPB Chief Donald Nelson warned labor and management to cooperate in the war drive or else production will be forced by totalitarian methods.

Nelson demanded increased production in his second weekly radio address, in which he said that thousands of needed machines are standing idle "part or all of every week-end and from eight to 16 hours every week-day."

In a letter to industry, he asked that the first questionnaire be returned by March 25 and that similar forms be forwarded afterwards to the bureau of labor statistics, which he designated as the collecting and tabulating agency.

Part of his plan to speed up war output, Nelson said that the reports "will provide basic information on the degree to which plants are approximating the full utilization of their equipment which is necessary" if 1942 and 1943 goals are to be met.

"The form provides also for a statement of any factors which currently may be interfering with the maximum use of your plant capacity," he told the manufacturers. "With this information at hand, I can assure you that we shall take all steps within our power to remedy such limiting factors."

Australia Hits Hard From

KENOSHA BURGLAR KNOWS
PRIORITIES; PANTIES GONE

KENOSHA, Wis., March 11—The police were looking today for a burglar who knows his priorities.

The burglar broke into a Kenosha dress shop and what he took were 36 panty girdles—made of rubber, and soon to be non-existent, according to the WPA.

Japanese shipping off the north-east coast of New Guinea.

Four Japanese transport vessels were badly damaged and knocked out of action. All four were set on fire. One was burned out, two were sinking and the fourth was beached.

In addition, a Japanese warship, either a cruiser or a large destroyer, received a direct bomb hit, the Australian announcement said.

Australian Army Minister
Francis Forde called for offensive action and declared "there should be no more talk of withdrawals."

Informed quarters at Canberra expressed belief the Japanese will open the battle for the Australian mainland by attempting landings at several separated points.

Next Target
A spokesman in Japan virtually confirmed that Australia is Nippon's next target. He said that if the Australian government "continues its present attitude toward Japan," Australia will suffer the same fate that befell Java and Singapore.

On the Burma front, British and other United Nations forces were reported fighting furiously to halt the Japanese advance which were being gained at sacrificial cost in men and materials. Latest advices said the Japanese were being helped by traitorous Dacoits, Burma's fierce jungle dwellers.

London resounded to a crescendo of rage against the Japanese for the atrocities perpetrated by the Jap army at Hong Kong. Commenting on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's disclosures of rape and murder, the London Daily Mail declared:

"The whole allied world is roused to a pitch of fury that can only foreshadow a new spirit of ruthlessness in the prosecution of the war."

Moscow reported continuing successes on the Russian front against the Germans, and told of new Red army offensives in the Crimea and the Ukraine. Last-minute advices said nine additional villages had been recaptured by the Russians east of Smolensk and that eight more had been reoccupied on the Kalinin front.

In the Atlantic, United States destroyers were reported without confirmation to have accounted for one enemy submarine off Cuba after three more ships were sunk without warning and four others were damaged by torpedoes and shell fire.

Dr. M. D. Miller of the Franklin county sanitarium will be in charge of the clinic.

REV. THOMAS RESIGNS

Walter A. Jones, deacon of Circleville Second Baptist church, announced Wednesday that the Rev. C. L. Harold Wines of Chillicothe will preach at next Sunday services.

SUGAR RATIONS MAY BEGIN SOON AFTER APRIL 1

Necessary Information Not Yet Received By Local Offices

BOOKS TO BE ISSUED
31,000 Cards To Be Issued
In Pickaway County
Under Program

Actual rationing of one half pound of sugar for each person each week in Pickaway county probably will begin soon after April 1, according to an announcement, Wednesday by the State defense council.

Books are expected to be in the hands of all school teachers within 10 days. Thereafter consumers will be instructed to register with teachers and receive their books, which will be numbered for identification. The actual rationing will begin either at the time of registration or within four days.

Mrs. Leona Riegel, clerk of the county rationing council, said Wednesday that no instructions had been received locally concerning distribution of the books and the supplies remain in the county office. Approximately 31,000 books will be distributed in the county.

Rationing of sugar to commercial and industrial users will be handled apart from the consumer rationing, according to the state defense council. Rationing originally was slated to start March

and both jaw bones broken
together with the nose and a skull fracture. He is now in Grant hospital

ARMY ONLY ONE ABLE TO PERMIT MEN FURLoughs

Furloughs to adjust their civilian affairs, which will be given to Selective Service registrants in cases of undue hardship caused by induction immediately after they pass the Army physical examination, will be granted by the Army and not by local boards, Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, pointed out Wednesday.

Under the new induction procedure, General Hershey said, registrants will be given notice to report for induction, instead of a notice to report for physical examination, when they are sent to the Army medical examiners. On passing the Army physical examinations, they are immediately inducted and subject to Army rules and regulations, he emphasized, and therefore can receive a furlough only from the Army.

General Hershey said: "The only change in Selective Service procedure is to speed up induction after a registrant has passed the 'screening' examination by his Local Board medical examiners, which is given to eliminate the obviously unfit. Under the former procedure, a registrant who passed this 'screening' test then received a notice to report to the Army for physical examination and on passing the latter returned to his home to await notice to report for induction. Now, he receives his notice to report for induction and then is given the Army physical tests."

General Hershey said the War department has given the Selective Service System assurance

LITTLE CHANGE PREDICTED FOR LOCAL MARKET

Little change in the hog market, due to the ceiling established on pork products Tuesday by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, is expected in Pickaway county.

Harry Briggs, manager of the Pickaway Livestock association, said Wednesday that local hog prices were only slightly affected Tuesday by the new program.

Effective March 23, the order fixes maximum wholesale prices at the highest levels that prevailed during the five day period, March 3 to 7. Local prices during that period ranged from $25.50 to $26.50 a hundred, Manager Briggs said. Tuesday prices on hogs were quoted at between $26 and $27 on the local market.

The local livestock association handles approximately 700 head of hogs, averaging 220 pounds, each week, making each week's volume of business from hogs alone ranging between $18,000 and $20,000.

The new price ceiling on dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts applies to packers and their branch houses, car routes, brokers, jobbers, wholesalers, processors and slaughterers.

Rawhide is an American term applied to cattlehide limed and prepared in the simple elementary processes, but not tanned.

that furloughs will be granted in cases where the registrant, after induction, needs time to adjust his civilian affairs.

HOW YOU CAN ADD THOUSANDS OF MILES TO A TIRE'S LIFE

Just a few pounds of air...a difference almost invisible to the human eye...might help you double your tire mileage!

If you run your tires too soft—because you can't see the difference—look at the miles you can add!

(Actual photographs of 6.00-16 tire)

It's easy to avoid damage, gain miles!

UNDERINFLATION
does this

does this

"Soft" tires wear extremely fast on the outside of the tread and shoulders. Tire crushes easily, flexes violently, causing destructive heat.

Too much air is almost as bad as too little. Overinflation causes excessive wear in center of tread—wastes mileage. Tire bruises more easily.

Most of us have a great many more miles left in our tires than we realize. Such a simple thing as correct inflation will add thousands of miles to tires which are habitually run too soft. Yet the fact is that only recently 9 of every 10 Ohio cars were running on improperly inflated tires. Remember—your tires may look all right even though they're down several pounds. So from now on don't take any chances. Have the air pressure checked regularly—every week. Any SOHIO station will gladly do it for you...free, of course.

With proper care a set of tires can easily give 40 or 50 thousand miles of service. Many motorists are getting that mileage. And, it's easy to do!

INDUSTRIAL ARMIES

AMERICAN factories may be making about the same sort of things they made before the war; but as a reporter observes, they "have a different group of customers." And that fact, driven home by the management and appreciated by the workers, make quite a difference.

They are working now for consumers who can't wait. Their customers are the U.S.A. and its foreign friends. Boiled down to individual facts, they are you and I and every man, woman and child in this country, and everybody everywhere who is being shoved around or shot or starved or penned in a concentration camp.

In this war of industry to save the world for freedom and civilization, there are probably more men on the production line than in the trenches. The lathe is as important as the cannon—possibly more so, because it makes the cannon. Back of the lathe, and back of every one of 10,000 instruments and tools and machines whirling and roaring in the great factories, are these soldiers of industry. Not only men, but women, too, in great numbers, and boys who feel themselves men.

Awakened now to the peril, they are giving their best. They deserve a salute as they pour into and out of the mill gates in endless streams.

SAVE GAS AND OIL

GASOLINE shortages are developing again rather alarmingly. They are worst in the East, on account of transportation difficulties, but tend to spread westward. There is talk of rationing the fuel for a time, possibly on a national scale, in order to build up supplies. Fuel oil is being rationed already in some eastern states.

Certain CIOers are quietly pushing Dr. John R. Steelman, head of the U. S. Labor Conciliation Service, to replace Miss Perkins as Secretary of Labor. Steelman is a good friend of John L. Lewis, who owes his closed-shop victory in the captive mines to Steelman.

There is no need of getting excited about this, but it is necessary for people in every part of the country to be fair and sensible about their gas and oil consumption. No waste is excusable. People should not drive more than is necessary, and as a matter of sensible economy when they must drive, they should avoid the waste that comes with unnecessary speed.

Somebody suggests a national poll for "our favorite nation," but aren't we too modest to answer that question honestly?

The Jap invaders, we understand, are indignant about our using savages to fight them in the Philippines.

Why roast Americans who say "uh-huh" for "yes," when the elegant French say "wee-wee"?

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

IT ISN'T selective service but urban industry that our farmers ought to blame for drafting so much agricultural labor that they can't plant, cultivate and harvest crops enough to feed the country adequately according to Brig. Gen. Louis G. Hershey, the service's head.

The general manifest is getting tired of being accused of overdriving conscription, but he doesn't propose to let anyone uncontradictably profess the ability to influence him to underdo it, either. Accordingly, he's co-operating with J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation at the task of running down an anonymous outfit which does make the claim that it can.

Suppose a farm hand is exempted by his draft board. Does he continue working on a farm? Not a bit of it, it appears. Some factory in his nearest city offers him so much higher wages than agriculture pays him that he quits his rural job and moves into town. Maybe his new sturt is an indispensible, too, so that he's still militarily exempted, but that's not helping the farm employer he has just left. That the latter is in a bad fix isn't disputed, but it's not selective service's fault. The downtown industry that hired the farmer's erstwhile assistant is responsible for it.

What the farmers really need is a selective service of their own—a system of drafting chaps to till their acres.

Farmers' Subsidy?

It probably would be earned unpopular, though—making the selectees toll on the land, with higher pay clamoring for them in the cities everywhere. Perhaps a congressional appropriation of a few billions, to make up the difference, would solve the problem. But that hasn't been suggested yet.

Anyway, General Hershey's bureau is tired of being panned for a situation it isn't guilty of and can't remedy.

It can and does tell its side, nevertheless.

The birds who represent themselves as able to obtain exemptions haven't been conclusively identified at this moment of writing. They don't sign their names to their publication literature, but they broadcast considerable of it, and some of it has fallen into the government's hands. That's what started it on their trail.

They call themselves an organization of some sort, and say they're in touch with powerful folk in Washington, who'll do their fixing for them—at a price, of course.

They even mention some of the "powerful folk's" names.

Naturally those names haven't been disclosed by the investigators yet, partly because it may be the alleged organization is lying about them, and partly because disclosure would be premature now, anyway.

If the scheme's a fake, at best it's a shot at obtaining by false pretenses from anyone who falls for it. If it's a genuine article, it involves a conspiracy to nullify the selective service act for subscribers to it, a severely punishable criminal offense.

Farmers' Subsidy?

Catching the would-be violators is the business of Attorney General Eddle's Justice department, through Chief Hoover's investigation bureau; not of the selective service outfit, which is concerned with administration, not enforcement of law. It obviously is of lively interest to General Hershey, though, and he's lending all the aid he can to Ed Hoover in digging into the matter.

The inner Administration word is that while Roosevelt finally has decided to accept Miss Perkins' long overdue resignation, he insists that some other good-paying job be found for the lady.

So the directorship of the International Labor Office has been suggested for Miss Perkins. It pays $18,000 a year; $3,000 more than her present salary. But when foreign members of the Labor office

The fact is that selective service realizes that its activities are of a nature to step on great many toes—not only the toes of selectees, but of their relatives and selectees, friends also, and, incidentally, the toes of quite a few seekers after selection, who, for one reason or another, are disqualified for belligerent service and consider themselves unjustly discriminated against by exclusion from Uncle Sam's armed forces. There's sympathy for them, but not for the would-be dodgers.

It's possible that, as copiously charged, Washington's several hundred departments, agencies, bureaus, administrations, commissions and other assorted services have total larger staffs of press representatives than the government needs. I wouldn't say that selective service has an excess of them, however. That's a service that has an unlimited quantity of explaining to do, and it's press spokesmen pull off a pretty fair job.

They even mention some of the "powerful folk's" names.

Naturally those names haven't been disclosed by the investigators yet, partly because it may be the alleged organization is lying about them, and partly because disclosure would be premature now, anyway.

SCRAMBLE FOR POWER

WASHINGTON — Some time has passed since the President finally centralized U. S. war industry in a single executive, but the problem of war labor administration is still an unsolved mess.

One great trouble is that supervision of this vital field is divided among a number of officials, each jealous of the others and all scrambling to be top dog.

Chief scramblers are Secretary Frances Perkins, whose record is one of the sourdest botches in the Administration and whose retention in the cabinet is one of the great mysteries of Washington. The other scramblers are: Federal Security Administrator Paul McNutt, restless and ambitious for a big-place war job; Sidney Hillman, ex-OPM boss and head of the labor division of the War Production Board.

Also in the tangled picture is War Production Chief Donald Nelson, who insists that war labor administration be under his control. And then there are the AFL and CIO, who want to get their hands on control, so they have cooked up the strategy of demanding that war labor be put in the Labor Department where they rule the roost.

However, Nelson and Hillman, who see eye-to-eye, plan to establish a Man Power agency under Nelson, which would have supervision over all problems of labor relating to war production except the settlement of industrial disputes. This is being handled by the War Labor Board. This plan, approved at a closed door session of the War Production Board last week, is being formally submitted to the President now.

This will put squarely up to him the choice between Nelson-Hillman and the political scheme demanded by the AFL-CIO with the secret backing of Miss Perkins.

AFL-CIO POLITICS

On the surface, AFL-CIO moguls are united in advocating that war labor administration be placed in the Labor Department—from which it was once taken because of Miss Perkins' genius for bungling. But privately they differ widely on who is to be the ultimate boss.

Certain CIOers are quietly pushing Dr. John R. Steelman, head of the U. S. Labor Conciliation Service, to replace Miss Perkins as Secretary of Labor. Steelman is a good friend of John L. Lewis, who owes his closed-shop victory in the captive mines to Steelman.

AFL men, on the other hand, are backing Assistant Labor Secretary Dan Tracy, former head of the AFL electrical workers.

The inner Administration word is that while Roosevelt finally has decided to accept Miss Perkins' long overdue resignation, he insists that some other good-paying job be found for the lady.

So the directorship of the International Labor Office has been suggested for Miss Perkins. It pays $18,000 a year; $3,000 more than her present salary. But when foreign members of the Labor office

Eyes Often the Cause Of Chronic Headache

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

AMONG chronic reflex headaches, those that originate in the eyes are among the most frequent and the easiest to relieve.

The eyes are used from twelve to fifteen hours every day. Therefore irrespective of the location of

Dr. Cledenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The headache or its severity, the eyes should be examined by a competent oculist in every case of chronic or recurrent headache.

Very often the reason that headache of eye origin is not traced to its source is due to the dislike that most people have of wearing glasses. They feel that it may be necessary to wear glasses and they would rather suffer with the headache than tell the family physician important facts that might result in glasses being recommended.

Headaches due to eye disturbances usually affect both sides of the head. However, a sufficient number of them are one-sided, resembling in this, migraine, so that one-sided headaches cannot be dismissed as not being due to eye disease.

Due to Eye Strain

While most headaches are due to eye strain, the cause of this strain should be determined and the eyes fitted with glasses to relieve any existing condition which might be causing this strain.

A number of inflammatory diseases of the eye, such as iritis and glaucoma, manifest themselves first by headache alone. An extremely important warning is that in any person over the age of forty who has a sudden headache, especially, stabbing and boring in character, radiating deeply through the orbit over the side of the head and down the neck and the shoulder, should have medical consultation immediately. It suggests acute glaucoma, one of the most serious of all eye diseases. Fortunately, the severity of the pain demands medical consultation so that these cases are not easily overlooked.

The common eye headache is a dull, heavy feeling rather than a pain, which is likely to come on in the middle of the afternoon and last through the evening. That is, it comes on at the end of a period of eye usage and lasts until the eyes are relieved. Eye headaches very seldom appear in the morning, which makes them different from headaches of sinus origin.

It is the mild muscle errors which present the serious problem so far as headaches are concerned. The more severe errors may be insignificant so far as symptoms are concerned.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G. M. S.—"Is there any harm in taking thyroid gland tablets without the constant care of a physician? I am seventeen and take them just for fun."

Answer: There certainly is a great deal of harm in taking thyroid extract without the constant care of a physician. I do not know what "fun" you get out of it, but if I were you, I would stop it.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Cledenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope, to: Logan Cledenning, 200 W. 12th Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Rheumatism," "How to Get Rid of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

school auditorium. The lecture was sponsored by Pickaway Plains chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Farsightedness

This type of headache may be due to an error of refraction, usually far-sightedness, which may be complicated by astigmatism. The latter is a condition in which the eyes are not able to focus on objects which are far away.

Another form of eye strain is due to muscle errors. Many of these are due to improperly fitted glasses—glasses that are not fitted to the face of the patient, tilted lens, too wide lens, or frames which are off center. And rarely, eyes which are uneven in position.

It is the mild muscle errors which present the serious problem so far as headaches are concerned. The more severe errors may be insignificant so far as symptoms are concerned.

A group of vocal solos by Mrs. Ralph Hosler of Ashville opened the program, her numbers including "Danny Boy" and "Linda Lou" by Lily Strickland and "My Own America" Mrs. Ervin Leist accompanied Mrs. Hosler at the piano.

Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh of Circleville chose for her solos "The Lass with the Delicate Air" by Michael Arne and "Sunday" by Johannes Brahms. Mrs. Leist was Mrs. Defenbaugh's accompanist. Mrs. Gordon Dunkel of New Holland pleased the group with two violin selections, "Melody in F" by Rubenstein and "Perpetual Motion" by Bohm. Mrs. Dunkel was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John T. Dick of New Holland.

Miss Eleanor Snyder of Circleville was heard in three splendid vocal solos, "Seguidilla", Carmen, "My Johann", Grieg and "Over the Moon is April", by Ernest Charles. Miss Abbie Mills Clarke played the piano accompaniments for Miss Snyder.

Members and visitors participated in a reception for Mrs. Johnson, after which refreshments were served in the Red room. A low bowl of forsythia centered the beautifully appointed table, tall yellow candles in silver holders being on either side. The color theme of green and yellow was continued in all table appointments and in the refreshments.

Mrs. Steele, Circleville, and Mrs. Elton Elliott of Bloomington presided.

Refreshments committee included Miss Hamilton, Miss Bertha Valentine, Mrs. I. W. Kinsey, Mrs. A. J. Lyle, Mrs. G. H. Adkins and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Scioto Valley Grange
More than 100 members and visitors attended the Tuesday meeting of Scioto Valley grange in the grange hall north of Ashville, the annual cake contest being a feature of the evening. Fudge cakes were entered in this year's contest, Mrs. Paul Peters winning first prize; Mrs. Herman Berger, second; Mrs. Lewis Eakin, third, and Mrs. Ralph Fisher, fourth.

Outstanding in importance to the organization was the conferring of the third and fourth degrees on a class of 18, including Harold William Peters, Mrs. E. W. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kuhlein and son, Boyd, Elroy Reid, Miss Cleona Dunnick, Donald Fisher, Miss Nina Rose Purcell, Mr. Oliver Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rohr, Paul Bozman and Miss Virginia Vause. Three others of the class were unable to be present.

Harry Speakman, worthy master, was in charge of the opening

Marriage Announced

The Circleville Benevolent association met Tuesday in the city cottage with Miss Florence Dunton in the chair, discussed business problems of the group and heard the February report of Miss Clara Southward, social worker.

Miss Southward told members of the association that 74 families were given help of some kind during the month. Among these were those who had not asked for help for a long time and a few new ones.

The clothing and household supplies that came from 14 donors were very useful and were greatly appreciated. Miss Southward reported that 39 pairs of shoes, 23 dresses, 10 coats or sweaters, 93 other garments and 289 miscellaneous articles, including bedding and dishes, were given out from the cottage during the month.

She mentioned that 17 families shared the prepared food that came from the Senior Girl Reserves, the Business and Professional Women's club and the Methodist church. Groceries were purchased for one family and several articles of clothing for others.

Twenty-one families were on the milk list.

The social worker listed 36 visits in the homes of applicants; 25 visits in behalf of the applicants; 126 office interviews with thirty members and visitors.

If six pounds, or half a peck of fresh string beans were laid not be a good idea, but you'd have to eat just that many beans if you were to receive the daily calcium required by your

Parking Meters Yield $85.07 In First Five Days Of Operation

CITY OFFICIALS SATISFIED WITH EARLY RETURNS

Each Device Returns An Average of 10 5-Cent Pieces, 32 Pennies

FEW SLUGS ARE FOUND

Taxi Company Pays $30 For Privilege Of Parking On Court Street

First collection from parking meters was made Tuesday afternoon and city officials reported the revenue taken from them was considerably larger than had been anticipated.

Collections totaled $85.07. The meters have been in operation since last Thursday and did not operate Sunday.

Service Director Clarence Helvering said the coin containers on an average of 10 nickels and 32 or 33 pennies to the meter. Meters which took in the least amount were located at the extreme west end of West Main street.

Other coin containers on West Main street nearer the Court street intersection were nearly full and one of them was running over, the service director said.

The meters along the west side of Court street between Main and Franklin streets also brought in considerable revenue. Helvering reported that $1.59 was the most money taken from any one container.

Three slugs, two dimes and a quarter were taken from the boxes when the count was made Tuesday afternoon. Meters jam when dimes or quarters are inserted.

Taxi Stand Rented

Arrangements were made with the 2300 Taxicab company for rental of parking space on South Court street in front of the taxicab offices. The cab company has agreed to pay $30 a year for the space.

Revenue taken from the meters is handled through the city auditor, Miss Lillian Young. Twenty-five percent of it goes to the city's general fund. The other 75 percent is retained by the meter company and if the city decides to purchase the meters at the end of the six month trial period, the money sent to the meter company will be refunded to the city on the purchase price of the meters.

Meters are located on West Main street from Court street to Scioto and on Court street from Watt street to Franklin. City officials expressed a belief following Tuesday's collection that had there been meters on East Main street, revenue from the first collection might have approached $100.

Meters operate from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. each day through the week and from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturdays. They are not in operation on Sundays or holidays.

"I don't see why an organization dedicated to the mission of promoting international labor corporation, should become the dumping ground of an unwanted American political appointee—and a not very competent one at that."

Note: Undercover hand that put over the appointment of L. Metcalfe Walling, young Rhode Island socialite, as Wage-Hour Administrator was Lee Pressman, leftwing general counsel of the CIO and close intimate of John L. Lewis. Walling was Miss Perkins' choice but she was unable to get anywhere until Pressman prevailed on CIO president Phil Murray to endorse Walling.

CHURCHILL ON "COURTING"

Officials of the British Supply Council are still chalking over an unrecorded incident of Winston Churchill's visit to Canada.

There is a deep plush rug in the Government House at Ottawa, famous for generating static electricity in the human body, so much so that sparks are sometimes visible when two persons shake hands. The phenomenon fascinated the British Prime Minister.

"I've never seen anything like it before," he told a naval aide. "We don't have such phenomena in London."

While the officer was explaining that the human sparks were partly due to Canada's cold, dry climate, the attractive young wife of a government official trotted up and introduced herself. As they shook hands, the Prime Minister felt a sharp shock. Wheeling, he asked the officer:

"I say, doesn't this sort of thing make courting rather difficult in Canada?"

CAPITAL CHAFF

Keep an eye on Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, for the directorship of the proposed Women's Auxiliary Corps. Ruth, who was once Roosevelt's Minister to Denmark, spent several years as a nurse in Egypt during the last war, later was secretary of the American Women's War Relief Fund.

Mrs. Warren Lee Piereson, wife of the Export-Import Bank director, has written a new mystery novel on Washington, "The Defense Rests."

Thanks to lower rates and careful efficiency, the railroads have been doing a bang-up job of rushing fuel oil and gasoline to the East Coast since the tanker sinkings. Biggest waster of paper in Washington is the Dutch propaganda service, more garrulous in deluging newsmen with expensively printed handouts than any other public shop.

Everyone is 100 percent behind the Dutch, regardless of the handouts.

Harold Tittmann, U. S. diplomat attached to the Vatican, is almost a prisoner. His relations with the Vatican are excellent, but since the Vatican is entirely surrounded by Italy, with which we are at war, he cannot get out.

Rarest autographed modern book is a copy of "Into Battle" by Winston Churchill, which bears the autographs of both Churchill and Roosevelt.

Walter Winchell is auctioning it off for the benefit of Navy Relief.

WHO DEFEATED FRANCE??

Pierre Cot, former Air Minister in the Blum cabinet, is living in exile in Washington. If he returned to France, he would be killed. Of the Riom trial of his colleagues, Cot says:

"The trial is a mockery. These men have already been condemned to life imprisonment. Petain condemned them last November. Their only hope is the liberation of France. The trial was designed to place responsibility for defeat on the Popular Front. Instead, it is being transformed into an accusation of Petain himself.

"Throughout the changing governments of France, Petain is the only man who has remained in constant authority in recent years. He made no protest against policies of the Popular Front. In fact, he once actually vetoed a proposal for increased defense."

"In December, 1936, I presented a plan for an enlarged air force, but the Permanent Committee for National Defense, of which Petain was the head, rejected the proposal."
